

I've been working for the Translation Bureau as a translator since 2021. I started my involvement with CAPE in February 2024 as a steward, when I became a steward, and later assumed the position of TR director. As a language specialist, bilingualism issues within federal institutions interest me keenly.

I am looking forward to contributing to CAPE's advocacy work in support of workers' interests and the values of equity and inclusion. I believe that unions are a valuable democratic institution, and we need to do all we can to strengthen their role.
